

FROM ADDICT TO DISCIPLE

By Steve Martin who is a Support For Prison Ministries Board (SFPM) member and a volunteer chaplain at Lancaster County Prison (LCP). Steve lives in Womelsdorf and attends Lebanon Christian Fellowship Church. David Hain is on the paid chaplain staff at LCP. He is executive director of Etsah Ministries, which works to bring wholeness and healing to lives torn apart by addictions. David lives in Quarryville and attends the Lord’s House of Prayer.

It’s Wednesday afternoon and the inmates from G-1 Block are gathering for the weekly From Addict to Disciple Group in Lancaster County Prison led by David Hain and myself. The meeting is opened with prayer then there is an opportunity to share prayer requests and praise reports. This gives the guys an opportunity to share what is happening in their lives, their struggles, their victories and concerns for families, court dates, and whatever else is on their mind. Often we play music that draws our hearts to God’s love and grace in our lives.

Then comes the main part of our group session; discussing what God has to say through his word about addiction and how to overcome it. Currently we are working through the Gospel of John, chapter by chapter, to see what Jesus has to say about the subject. After watching the chapter on the Visual Bible DVD, the men share what stood out to them and spoke to their heart. This past week we were discussing in Chapter 14 how Jesus and the Father want to make their home in us. We agreed that if we could live in that reality, our lives would be transformed. After 2 hours, the meeting is ended with prayer. In addition to this group, David holds another men’s group on Friday morning and David and Kathy Paxton hold a group for women on Wednesdays.

Dave and I consider it an opportunity to share our hearts with these men as they are on their journey to freedom. Their honesty, desperation and desire for change is refreshing. Because of the consequences of their addiction, they are forced to look at what has controlled and destroyed their lives. Unlike many of us, they cannot hide who they really are. It is out open for all to see.

Gerald May, author, describes addiction as a state of compulsion, obsession or preoccupation that enslaves a person’s will and desire. Addictions include things such as drugs, alcohol, pornography, gambling, food, shopping, just to name a few. We believe that addiction is a spiritual battle.

Focus On Finances

January 1– August 31, 2009

SFPM's budget for 2009 year is $372,000. Of this amount, about $188,000 is needed from contributions that come from churches, businesses and many interested persons. As you can see from the financial graph, expenses stay fairly constant for the year (chaplain salaries and program costs and supplies) while contributions are smaller during the spring and summer months.

AN ENVELOPE IS ENCLOSED FOR YOU TO PARTNER WITH US.

THANKS FOR YOUR GENEROUS GIFTS.

“Quotes from inside the prison”

“For the prisoner who finds faith in God, personal freedom no longer happens the day of release from behind bars. Freedom happens the day they turn their lives over to God.” An area pastor who visits LCP

“I now know that I am accepted by God. By coming to jail, I was able to straighten out my life. I am getting clean from drugs, for the sake of myself and my babies.” LCP female inmate

“Thanks for the Bible you gave to me. It gives me comfort. I thank you for the chance to go to your teaching (a chaplain's session). I am now closer to the Lord.” LCP male inmate

“Enclosed is a gift for your ministry. I was a recipient of your great (chaplain's) work many years ago when I was at Lancaster County Prison. I want to encourage you to continue with your work. It is a big harvest field of lost souls, many who resist the truths of the gospel.” A PA state prison inmate

Our particular addiction is medicating a wound or hurt that is in our lives. Instead of looking to God to meet all of our needs, we try to fill the void with other things. Often as a result of these wounds, we end up believing lies about ourselves, God, and life and make bad choices. In the groups and one-on-one sessions, we look to identify these wounds and ask God to bring healing to our hearts. We talk about what it means to be a godly man and how to make godly choices. We also discuss the importance of true fellowship; finding five godly men who will speak honestly and lovingly into their lives.

On Tuesday evenings, two From Addict to Disciple Groups (one for the men and one for the women) are held at the Etsah Ministries offices in Leola, PA. Etsah is an addictions ministry that meets the state's requirement for drug and alcohol counseling and fulfills the requirements of parole and probation. The goal of this group is to provide folks with an opportunity for fellowship and a safe place to be honest about their journey. Often families of addicts attend to understand what is happening in the lives of their loved ones.

Recently David, the founder and director of Etsah Ministries, had the opportunity to take the “From Addict to Disciple” Program to South Africa. Over 200 prisons are open and wanting to get involved. For more information: www.etsahministries.org/

PRISON MINISTRY INFORMATION CAN COME TO YOU

One of our goals is to provide information and training to the local church, community and interested persons. SFPM does this in a variety of ways; we have a full-size model prison cell to set up, have chaplains and staff who speak at church services, mission committees or small groups. We also have a display board/table for community and outreach events.

Contact Nelson Martin (717) 625-0232
 for more information or open dates.

PRISON VISION IS PROMOTED BY AN ACTIVE BOARD

The ongoing work of SFPM is guided by an 11 member board from various churches and communities.
